How do I become a USA Swimming Official?

The entry level position for Officiating is a Stroke & Turn Judge (Level 5) certification.

They are the officials standing at either end of the pool or walking along the side of the pool observing the swimmers to ensure that the technical rules of the individual strokes are being followed. Progression from Stroke & Turn (S&T) includes the positions of Starter (Level 3) and Referee (Level 1).

What is required to be an official?

1. You must become a non-athlete member of USA Swimming. 2013 annual membership cost $59.
2. Complete the background check required by USA Swimming. (Cost is $39 – reimbursed by OSI).
3. Complete the Athlete Protection Training (APT) required by USA Swimming (no cost involved).
4. Complete the designated training program for the Stroke & Turn Judge position.

What is involved in the Stroke & Turn Judge training program?

1. Attend a Certification Clinic (offered in the Spring and Fall). At the clinic all steps to become an official will be explained to you.
2. Complete Online Officials Tests covering stroke & turn/timer, clerk of course and timing judge on the USA Swimming website.
3. Complete an apprenticeship of six sessions over two separate, sanctioned meets working with a certified official to gain knowledge of proper officiating protocol.

How do I get started?
