

PRIVATE LESSON POLICY

Here at Patriot Aquatic Club, we are proud of our accomplishments and confident in our team philosophy. We understand that members are always looking for ways to improve, but we want to ensure there is proper communication between coach and athlete. Due to different philosophies of coaching, we have found that swimmers who receive lessons from outside sources become confused about their stroke technique. Additionally by no means, can an athlete miss practice and/or a meet for outside private lessons.

The order in which a swimmer seeks out private lessons is as follows:

1. Your group's lead coach
2. Any other PAC coach
3. An outside private lesson, if and only if there is communication with your group's lead coach

By accepting this policy, you are declaring that you will communicate with your lead coach about all private lessons. If yourself and/or the outside coach wish to keep that information private, your membership is at risk of being terminated without a refund.
