

Chicago Wolfpack Aquatic Club Group Flow Chart

Swimmers are placed into training groups according to each group's criteria, practice/meet times and coach's recommendations. While we look at the time standards listed above in making group moves that is just one of many factors. More important sometimes than meet times, coaches will take into account attendance, attitude and practice performance to determine how well-rounded the swimmer's ability is when making group moves.

