

Name: Lucy Sharpe

High School: Severna Park High School

Years on SPY: 11 years

College attending in Fall 2019: Penn State University

Hobbies When Not Swimming: When I'm not swimming, you will usually find me at the gym with Elena doing a HIIT class (always when Aimee is the instructor because she is the best one), online shopping for clothes and shoes I don't need or hanging out with my friends downtown to get fries and ice cream.

Most Memorable Swim: My most memorable swim would be my 100 fly at Wilton a couple of years ago. If you've ever seen me swim fly you know that I can't, so there was no surprise when I choked on water halfway through and stopped swimming. I could hear the coaches yelling at me to keep going, but I was a little busy crying so I couldn't move. After a few moments, I regained the energy to finish, receiving the pity clap from the swimmer next to me and found out that I wasn't DQed and even went a best time. I still to this day avoid that event as much as possible and make a stupid excuse to not swim it if I'm put in it.

Most Memorable/Funny Moments: One of my most memorable moments on Spy would be when the 2017 Spies group took a team bonding trip to Conowingo. We went to try to go cliff jumping and swimming, but we were almost killed by a couple, in horrible neon T-shirts, with their truck when they purposely tried to run us over. I also lost Elena's sunglasses that day in the current. Sorry, eh! Then, there was when Allison and I had to walk to practice because no one would give us a ride. We were always late, but it was funny, and I enjoyed sending Crystee an action shot of Allison and I running to the pool. Another one would be Emma P and I freaking out when a certain lifeguard came on deck. I went on a date with him once and when it didn't work out it was awkward seeing him all the time at practice, especially since my assigned lane was lane one. Thank you Crystee and Richard for that.

Best Event: 100 breast

Favorite Set: Probably Spyopoly, but only if I'm with the other senior girls because we're all okay with cheating. I apologize Richard but you probably noticed.

Least Favorite Set: Jump roping in dryland and meet warm-up.

Pre-Swim Rituals: Before my race, I like to walk around and find hot guys with my friends. But when I'm behind the block, I like to tighten my goggles a thousand times because I'm terrified of them coming off or filling with water.

Favorite Meal before a Meet: Ice cream

Advice for Younger Swimmers: Try to make your last year the most fun and memorable as possible, it goes by faster than you think. Also, don't go cliff jumping in Conowingo.
