Policy:

1. Objectives of the Aquatic Center's Bullying Policy and Action Plan:
 - a) To make it clear that the Aquatic center will not tolerate bullying in any form.
 - b) To define bullying and give all board members, coaches, parents and swimmers a good understanding of what bullying is.
 - c) To make it known to all parents, athletes and staff that there is a policy and protocol should any bullying issues arise.
 - d) To make clear and understandable how to report bullying.
 - e) To spread the word that Aquatic Center takes bullying seriously and that all athletes and parents can be assured that they will be supported when bullying is reported.

WHAT IS BULLYING?

2. The Aquatic Center prohibits bullying. Generally, bullying is the use of aggression, whether intentional or not, which hurts another person. Bullying results in pain and distress.

Bullying is the severe or repeated use by one or more staff members or athletes of oral, written, electronic or other technological expression, image, sound, data or intelligence of any nature (regardless of the method of transmission), or a physical act or gesture, or any combination thereof, directed at any other member that to a reasonably objective person has the effect of:

- a) Causing physical or emotional harm to the other member or damage to the other athlete's or staff member's property;

- b) Placing the other person in reasonable fear of harm to himself/herself or of damage to his/her property;
- c) Creating a hostile environment for the other person at any activity;
- d) Infringing on the rights of the other person at any activity; or
- e) Materially and substantially disrupting the training process or the orderly operation of any activity (which for the purposes of this section shall include, without limitation, practices, workouts, classes and other events).

REPORTING PROCEDURE

- 3. An athlete who feels that he or she has been bullied is asked to do one or more of the following things:
 - a) Talk to your parents;
 - b) Talk to a coach or other staff, Board Member, or other designated individual;
 - c) Write a letter or email to the coach or other staff, Board Member, or other designated individual;

There is no express time limit for initiating a complaint under this procedure, but every effort should be made to bring the complaint to the attention of the appropriate staff member as soon as possible to make sure that memories are fresh and behavior can be accurately recalled and the bullying behavior can be stopped as soon as possible.

HOW WE HANDLE BULLYING

- 4. If bullying is occurring during Aquatic Center activities, immediately stop the bullying using the following steps:
 - a) Intervene immediately. It is ok to get another adult to help.
 - b) Separate the kids involved.
 - c) Make sure everyone is safe.
 - d) Meet any immediate medical or mental health needs.
 - e) Stay calm. Reassure the kids involved, including bystanders.
 - f) Model respectful behavior when you intervene.
- 5. If bullying is occurring at the Aquatic Center, we address the bullying by FINDING OUT WHAT HAPPENED and SUPPORTING THE PEOPLE INVOLVED using the following approach:

FINDING OUT WHAT HAPPENED

A. First, we get the facts.

- 1) Keep all the involved people separate.
- 2) Get the story from several sources, both adults and kids.
- 3) Listen without blaming.
- 4) Don't call the act "bullying" while you are trying to understand what happened.
- 5) It may be difficult to get the whole story, especially if multiple athletes are involved or the bullying involves social bullying or cyber bullying. Collect all available information.

B. Then, we determine if it's bullying. There are many behaviors that look like bullying but require different approaches. It is important to determine whether the situation is bullying or something else.

- 1) Review the definition of bullying;
- 2) To determine if the behavior is bullying or something else, consider the following questions:
 - What is the history between the people involved?
 - Have there been past conflicts?
 - Is there a power imbalance? Remember that a power imbalance is not limited to physical strength. It is sometimes not easily recognized. If the targeted person feels like there is a power imbalance, there probably is.
 - Has this happened before? Is the person worried it will happen again?
- 3) Remember that it may not matter “who started it.” Some people who are bullied may be seen as annoying or provoking, but this does not excuse the bullying behavior.
- 4) Once you have determined if the situation is bullying, support all involved.

SUPPORTING THE PEOPLE INVOLVED

C. Support the people who are being bullied

- 1) Listen and focus on the person. Learn what’s been going on and show you want to help. Assure the person that bullying is not their fault.
- 2) Work together to resolve the situation and protect the bullied person. The person, parents, and fellow team members and coaches may all have valuable input. It may help to:
 - a) Ask the person being bullied what can be done to make him or her feel safe. Remember that changes to routine should be minimized. He or she is not at fault and should not be singled out. For example, consider rearranging lane assignments for everyone. If bigger moves are necessary, such as switching practice groups, the person who is bullied should not be forced to change.
 - b) Develop a game plan. Maintain open communication between the Club and parents. Discuss the steps that will be taken and how bullying will be addressed going forward.
- 3) Be persistent. Bullying may not end overnight. Commit to making it stop and consistently support the bullied person.

D. Address bullying behavior

- 1) Make sure the person knows what the problem behavior is. Young people who bully must learn their behavior is wrong and harms others.
- 2) Show people that bullying is taken seriously. Calmly tell the person that bullying will not be tolerated. Model respectful behavior when addressing the problem.
- 3) Work with the person to understand some of the reasons he or she bullied. For example:
 - a) Sometimes people bully to fit in or just to make fun of someone is a little different from them. In other words, there may be some insecurity involved.
 - b) Other times people act out because something else—issues at home, abuse, stress—is going on in their lives. They also may have been bullied. These people may be in need of additional support.
- 4) Involve the person who bullied in making amends or repairing the situation. The goal is to help them see how their actions affect others. For example, the person can:
 - a) Write a letter apologizing to the athlete who was bullied.
 - b) Do a good deed for the person who was bullied, for the Aquatic Center, or for others in your community.

- c) Clean up, repair, or pay for any property they damaged.
- 5) Avoid strategies that don't work or have negative consequences:
 - a) Zero tolerance or "three strikes, you're out" strategies don't work. Suspending or removing from the people who bully does not reduce bullying behavior. People may be less likely to report and address bullying if suspension or getting kicked off the team is the consequence.
 - b) Conflict resolution and peer mediation don't work for bullying. Bullying is not a conflict between people of equal power who share equal blame. Facing those who have bullied may further upset people who have been bullied.
- 6) Follow-up. After the bullying issue is resolved, continue finding ways to help the person who bullied to understand how what they do affects other people. For example, praise acts of kindness or talk about what it means to be a good teammate.

E. Support bystanders who witness bullying. Every day, people witness bullying. They want to help, but don't know how. Fortunately, there are a few simple, safe ways that athletes can help stop bullying when they see it happening.

- 1) Be a friend to the person being bullied;
 - 2) Tell a trusted adult – your parent, coach, or club board member;
 - 3) Help the person being bullied get away from the situation. Create a distraction, focus the attention on something else, or offer a way for the target to get out of the situation. "Let's go, practice is about to start."
 - 4) Set a good example by not bullying others.
 - 5) Don't give the bully an audience. Bullies are encouraged by the attention they get from bystanders. If you do nothing else, just walk away.
6. Staff not following the spirit of this procedure will be disciplined according to policy P-HR-018 Employee Discipline.
