

Listed in By-laws as HSL Guidelines for Sportsmanship

Definition: Sportsmanship is the ability to win without gloating, lose without complaining, while treating all with respect.

1. Abide by the rules of the sport.

Part of good sportsmanship is knowing the rules of the sport and swimming by them. It is the responsibility of the swimmer to learn how to swim according to the rules which have been established and standardized to allow fair competition.

2. Try to avoid arguments.

Part of good sportsmanship is anger management. Arguing with officials, coaches or opponents is often simply a misguided effort at "letting off steam" in the heat of competition. A good sport knows how to walk away from an argument and to stay focused on the event at hand.

3. Share in the responsibilities of the team.

Good sportsmanship implies that the swimmer is a team player. In other words, the swimmer understands that his or her behavior reflects on the team in general. Moreover, a team player does not condone unsportsmanlike conduct from teammates and reminds others that they all share in the responsibility of promoting good sportsmanship.

4. Give everyone a chance to play according to the rules.

In youth recreational sports the more talented people, if they are good sports, will look out for and encourage the less talented swimmers on the team, cooperating with coaching plans to let everybody be a part of the team.

5. Always play fairly.

Honesty and integrity should be an integral part of sports. A swimmer with good sportsmanship does not want a hollow victory which comes as a result of cheating.

6. Follow the directions of the coach.

A swimmer with good sportsmanship listens to and follows the directions of the coach, realizing that each swimmer's decisions affect the rest of the team. If a swimmer has a disagreement with the coach, the swimmer discusses the disagreement privately in a civil manner, away from the public eye.

7. Respect the other team's effort.

Whether the other team swims better, or whether they swim worse, the swimmer with good sportsmanship does not use the occasion to put the other team down. In the field of competition, respect for opponents is central to good sportsmanship.

8. Offer encouragement to teammates.

A sign of good sportsmanship is a swimmer who praises teammates when they do well and who comforts and encourages them when they make mistakes.

9. Accept the judgment calls of the meet officials.

The swimmer with good sportsmanship knows that errors may be made, but the swimmer also knows that a meet is made up of all the swims and calls from the beginning to the end of the meet, not just the call in dispute. The swimmer with good sportsmanship may be upset, but that swimmer also has learned to focus his/her energies back on the meet and on doing the best he/she can do for the rest of the meet.

10. End the meet smoothly.

When the meet is over, pouting, threatening, and cajoling have no place in the life of the swimmers with good sportsmanship, who emphasize the joy of participating, regardless of outcome. They're not devoid of emotions but they know that their efforts to end the competition smoothly, without antagonistic emotional display, will help ensure that the meets will continue in the future.

HSL Amendment to By-laws or Rules as determined by the HSL Board

1. Sportsmanship Pledge and parent handout
 - a. All HSL athletes and parents will read and sign the sportsmanship pledge upon signing up to join a team within the HSL (these can be done in family groups – all family members sign one form). For the first year of any swimmer, a signed paper copy is required, which can later be scanned for record retention. Following years, electronic signature can be allowed by HSL board approval.
 - b. These will be retained by the team and are the responsibility of the individual team within HSL. They can be asked for at any time by the HSL Executive Board or member teams of the HSL Swim Board. Failure to produce a signed copy (either electronic or physical) can result in team sanction and forfeiture of meets as deemed necessary by the HSL Executive Board.
 - c. All HSL parents will be given the Take Away parent's page with the understanding that this is a part of what they are agreeing to.
2. Coaches, Non-Parent volunteers, and other spectators will be governed by the team they are supporting and the HSL teams need to communicate to these individuals that they will be held to the same level of sportsmanship as the swimmers themselves. HSL teams will need to develop their own policies for communication to and monitoring of non-parent participants, and spectators.
3. HSL will not tolerate unsportsmanlike conduct from swimmers, coaches, volunteers, parents, or spectators.
 - a. Individuals and/or Teams can fall under these rules if it is found to be a widespread issue.
 - b. The three levels are not all inclusive and should apply evenly to actual behavior at meets and outside of meets. Public conversation and public postings in non-electronic and electronic media (Facebook, Snapchat, Twitter, email, and many others) of any means can fall under governance by these rules. (this maybe expanded later as its own policy).
 - c. Three levels of unsportsmanlike conduct will be defined with varying levels of actions that can or will be taken.

Level I

Mild unsportsmanlike conduct – such as but not limited to - taunting, teasing, negative/disrespectful actions or wording, in general putting down other people.

Actions:

1. Coach or Organization Parent Representative (OPR) is notified by affected individual, parent, or volunteer of possible issue and talks to affected individual to get their side of the story. If the coach or OPR is the person affected or involved, this should immediately be escalated to the Executive Board of HSL and will most likely be handled as a level II or III.
2. Coach to talk with other team coach if necessary (if the incident is between two teams).
3. The coach(es) or OPR to talk with individual(s) during the activity ongoing if possible or within one day of the activity to determine the extent of the at-fault in the incident.
4. Coaches or OPR to determine course of action – apology (written/verbal) or other and to let parents know if their swimmer is involved.
5. No formal written reporting needed. An email to the Executive Board will be drafted including an overview of the incident within 24 hours of resolution.

Level II

Unsportsmanlike conduct – such as but not limited to - unwanted physical contact (horse-play), abusive language, disrespecting a volunteer as they are performing their tasks, disrupting a meet, safety incident, Level I conduct that is allowed to manifest repeatedly.

2. Coach to coach interaction if conduct occurred between teams.
3. OPR interaction if parent or volunteer. If the coach or OPR is the person affected or involved, this should immediately be escalated to the Executive Board of HSL and will most likely be handled as a level III.
4. Documentation of the issue must be made by a coach or OPR and submitted to the HSL Executive Board.
5. Take care of the incident immediately within the event occurring, if possible, or within one day following the event.
6. Starter and Admin are to be notified of incident if it involves a pool volunteer for the meet (official, timer, clerk of course, computer table, announcer, time slip runner) and must sign and date the investigation form.
7. Investigate and determine outcome – document clearly on the investigation form
 - a. Misunderstanding – no fault determined – offending person to give sincere apology to offended person
 - b. At Fault – sincere apology given to offended person and verbal or written warning to offending person to not let it happen again
 - c. Warning is a probation event – if two or more occur it becomes a Level III incident
 - d. The written report will be emailed to the Executive Board for review and record within 24 hours of resolution.

4. OPR to take care of the incident immediately within the event occurring or before leaving the event site.
5. OPR to get all information needed on the investigation form with witness statements, person affected statement, supposed person committing statement. Once investigation is completed, the OPR will determine fault with the Starter and Admin if only one team, or with Starter, Admin, and other team(s) OPR if multiple teams are involved.

- a. If determined to be at fault, the offending individual(s) are to be removed from the HSL event immediately by OPR and Coach – this will be supported fully by the Starter and Admin (even to the point of delaying the meet until the event is taken care of).
- b. The written report will be emailed to the Executive Board for review and record within 24 hours of the event
- c. The team will suspend the offending individual from any participation until the Executive Board can review and determine next steps. This includes participation in practices or any team events. If it is a parent or volunteer they will not be allowed at any team or HSL events until after determination of incident and punishment.
- d. The HSL Executive Board will review all Level III events and determine if further action is to be taken. Review by Executive Committee must be done within 48 hours of receiving the investigation.
- e. Any permanent action (longer than six weeks) recommended by the Executive Board must be brought before the HSL Board for a vote.
