Female	CA - So. California Swimming	Practice - Other	Water - Side	The subject and a fellow swimmers were swimming backstroke and collided head first into each other. I was not a witness to the accident.	Swimmer complained of pain, said she thought she'd blacked out briefly at the time of the incident and felt dizzy. She was able to get out on her own. The swimmers father was on sight, he informed me he was going to take her home and put some ice on her head. He also said he would have her seen by a doctor.
rende					Swimmer was crying at first because of initial shock(and the fact that it happened before, recently).
				Collided with another athlete who was swimming on the wrong side of the lane. Dive 100's- (2 heats at a time, 10 sec.	Athlete who collided into her apologized quickly after collision and continued to finish his race and seemed to be completely fine.
	CA - So. California Swimming		Other Water - Middle	apart.) Collided with another athlete who was swimming on the wrong side of the lane. Dive 100's- (2 heats at a time, 10 sec.	After a little icing- swimmer had wanted to swim again but instead had her finish practice early as precaution.
Female	CA - So. California Swimming	Practice - Other	Other Water - Middle	apart.)	Complained of dizziness and headache. Finished practice early + rested for a couple days.
Male	CA - So. California Swimming	Practice - Other	Other Water - Middle	Athlete had forgotten which side to swim on for dive 100's. (2 heats at a time, 10 sec. apart) Ended up colliding with another swimmer.	No real injury since athlete had collided with the other athlete with his neck/shoulder area. Claimed to be fine with no pain or symptoms bothering him.
Male	CA - So. California Swimming	Practice - Other	Other Water - Middle	Athlete had forgotten what side of the lane to swim on for dive 100's (going in 2 separate heats, 10 sec. apart). Collided with other swimmer.	Assumed it was a light concussion. However, athlete complained of no pain or dizziness but went through necessary precautions and finished practice early.

The athlete immediately stood up and held her forehead. She then sat on the wall of the pool while the coach spoke to her and observed her condition. Once it was discovered that the athlete's forehead was bleeding, care was administered and the athlete's parent was contacted.	none The athlete suffered a vertical cut on her forehead just below the hairline. The cut was approximately 1 inch long. The athlete complained of general pain in the area of the cut. The athlete was aware of her surroundings and coherent from the time of the accident to the time she was released into parent care. When questioned the athlete reported no other pain or discomfort besides the cut on the forehead.

					After swimmer fell, I went to Coach of NCRC to inform her of the incident. The meet director was in the process of getting the meet 1 1					ready and was not at that moment visible in the pool area. Coach directed swimmer to the lifeguard to get ice. I informed her that people had been slipping on the very wet hallway all weekend. (I found out later that the meet director was not informed by NCRC
1 1					of swimmer having fell, nor me having filled out an incident report.) Shortly thereafter, someone haphazardly put down two rugs
1 1					exiting to the wet hallway, but these rugs were not taped down and people were starting to trip on them. The hallway remained
1 1					wet. Flow of traffic was still not diverted to the opposite, dry, carpeted hallway or any other corrective action taken by NCRC or HHSC until I filed an incident report with NCRC Head Coach at event 63, the point where swimmer said her wrist was really hurting.
1 1					At this point, NCRC directed the Marshalls to divert the traffic and make sure kids exited the pool down the carpeted hallway, versus the other door leading out to the very wet hallway. However, it was a little too late, as the meet was almost over. I filed the incident report with the NCRC coaches Sunday evening, January 10, 2016, however, they have yet to enter it here into the system as of Wednesday, January 12, 2016. When I called USA Swimming and spoke with George Ward, he told me to file this report myself, to collect and itemize all medical bills. He added that NCRC should have filed by now and that USA Swimming would be looking for it. He added that if and when NCRC were to file their report, it would not negate this report and that USA Swimming is willing to help us in anyway possible. However, Mr. Ward strongly encouraged me to get word to NCRC to get their own version of the incident reported. In doing so through email, the head coach of NCRC, informed me that he wouldn't be back to Eden until Monday, January 18th, and that he would file then. At that point, I responded back that he should have reported it Sunday night/Monday morning and to please do so ASAP. Swimmer's TWST head coach also sent him a similar email, to please report it. After conversing with Mr. Ward, it is known that NCRC is negligent on several points: 1) not having notified the meet director that this incident happened when it did, 2) not filing the incident report with USA Swimming in a timely fashion, and 3) not filing it with Eden Jr/Sr High School in a timely fashion. I had a very nice conversation with the meet director and informed him that swimmer is doing well, and that I was sorry that this happened, but thanked him for his support and dedication to the sport. I am hopeful that NCRC files their report in short order. Swimmer's wrist is being attended to with rest and ice. Two EAST swim amala	NT - North Texas Swimming	Practice - Dry Land	Outside Venue	Athlete was standing on top of a green electrical box outside of the front of the pool. A rock was thrown at and struck athlete's head. The girl who threw the rock, claims that she "tossed" the rock underhand towards athlete and that hitting her was an accident. I did not witness the incident. After interviewing 3 other swimmers, the consensus is that she threw the rock towards at least 2 other swimmers prior to throwing it at athlete, and threw the rock overhand at her. She was brought inside and checked out by head lifeguard. Ice was applied to her head for about 20 minutes and she was able to swim the entire hour and twenty minute practice.
