Coach heard another swimmer say 'I think she is having a seizure', and before coach could get to swimmer, swimmer fell to the ground where she hit her head and her elbow. She continued to seize and it looked as though she was trying to get up, but her body was completely rigid. Her eyes were rolled back, and she was breathing. The entire seizure was about 1-2 minutes long. Coach tried to talk to her the entire time and slowly she started to respond and answer questions. All of her answers were correct and she could recount everything about her day and about school, but her eyes continued to roll up and down and it took another couple of minutes for them to settle. It was then that she mentioned that her head hurt and coach noticed the bleeding and swelling of that area of back of her head. She also mentioned that she could not feel her mouth or her lips. A parent assisted coach with getting gauze to place on her wound, and coach continued to stabilize her head. Coach applied pressure to her head while the parent placed gauze underneath her elbow that was bleeding slightly as well. The parent and Coach to talk to the swimmer while another coach called 911 and the swimmers' parents. Once EMS arrived they took over stabilization and took over overall care of the swimmer. Parents arrived on site, and she was taken by ambulance to the hospital.	The swimmer had what appeared to be a grand mal seizure. She fell in the process and hit her head and her elbow on the floor. She had a golf ball/tennis ball sized swelling to the back of her head as well as a small laceration due to the fall. Her parents have since let us know that she has been diagnosed with a concussion in addition to the lacerations/bruise.

Male	MR - Metropolitan Swimming	Practice - Other	Deck	Over the 5 days at the Olympic Training Center pool, I slipped 10 or 12 times. The deck surface is very slippery and I was walked around coaching, I slipped and almost fell several times. I caught myself many times either in a lunge or with hands, so I never fell. But, I certainly strained myself in the moment. My lower back went from being normal to very uncomfortable. It resulted in not being able to sleep, or get out of bed in a reasonable amount of time. I could not bend, reach, lift, or squat. In a week, it went away. But then a week later it came. So, I went to the physical therapist and the doctor. I had to get an x-ray and I may need to get an MRI.	I am waiting for more details from my physical therapist and doctor. However, they believe it is an issue with a disc in my lower spine caused my the multiple slips.

Male	NE - New England Swimming	Practice - Other	Deck	Coach 1: On Thursday, February 23rd around 6:05pm swimmer slipped into the pool and hit his ear. He was at the side of the pool when he turned to talk to us (the coaches) when he lost his balance. He fell and hit his hip on the side of the pool and then his ear before falling into to the pool. He quickly brought himself out of the water and held his head while screaming out of fear and pain. The swimmers were mostly swimming already as this happened and the Commonwealth coaches, who had just finished practice, stood close by as this happened. As they stood by, Coach calmed him down, getting the swimmer to steady his breathing. Another Coach and I had the lifeguards call 9-1-1. I ran to get mats so that the swimmer could lay horizontally. A lifeguard got ice and put it gently next to the swimmer's head. We told the rest of the swimmers to quietly get out of the pool and grab their towels and head off the deck. Coach called swimmer's mother as the lifeguard and another coach talked with the swimmer to tell her what had happened and ask her to come back so she could make decisions about what actions to take. An EMT was called. I made sure the swimmers were off the deck, but then had them come back and grab clothes so that they could go upstairs to another location so they wouldn't see a stretcher come down for the swimmer. From that point I was with the other swimmers but checked on the injured swimmer occasionally to make sure he was doing okay. Coach 2: At approximately 18:05, the swimmer approached Coach 1, Coach 3, and I to clarify what warmup was. As he was walking away, Coach 3 asked him how his day was going, the swimmer turned to answer the question, and as he turned, he slipped and fell into the pool. When he fell, his hip broke his fall, and the side of his head hit the edge of the pool as well. Coach 3 immediately went to the side of the pool to help him, and the swimmer quickly came to the surface of the water. As this transpired, I alerted the nearest lifeguard and moved to where Coach 3 and the swimmer were sitting. Coach 1 began clearing the swimmers out of the pool at the other end, and I went upstairs to the lobby to ask the lifeguard retrieving ice what I could do to help the swimmer. She informed me that it would be best that he lie down. I went back downstairs and relayed this information to Coach 3. As we were helping the swimmer lie down, the second lifeguard returned from calling campus security / EMTs, and the first lifeguard placed two bags of ice next to the swimmer's head on the side he had hit. At this time, Coach 1 took the swimmers upstairs to keep them away from the situation. I stayed with Coach 3, the injured swimmer, and the lifeguards for about five minutes before returning up to the lobby to meet the first EMT / security officer to arrive. Approximately two-three minutes later, the EMT / security officer arrived, and I led him downstairs to the pool. The officer asked the swimmer some questions such as his name, his birthday, etc. As the officer was talking with him, Coach 3 called the swimmer's mother and alerted her of the situation. The officer advised that an ambulance be called so that the EMT's could further examine him. While we waited for the EMTs to arrive, Coach 3, the lifeguard, and I continued to talk with the swimmer, who was in good spirits. Swimmer's mother arrived at the same time the EMTs arrived. The EMTs examined the swimmer and recommended that he be transported to Boston Children's Hospital as a precaution. Swimmer's mother consented, and the EMTs took him via ambulance to Children's. Once the swimmer and his mother left the building, I went to retrieve coach 1 and the swimmers to continue with practice.	Lifeguard 1: Witness: On February 23rd, 2017 at 6:00 pm, I saw the swimmer fall on the pool deck in the hustle and bustle of switching swim practices. He lost his balance and fell into the water hitting his hip and then his head/ear on the way down. He jumped right back out of the water flustered. He showed signs of distress, he was red, and breathing heavily. He showed signs of bleeding from his ear, and it was determined it was a cut under his tragus. Lifeguard 2: As the lifeguards we called public safety, carefully laid him down got ice for his head and checked his pulse. His pulse was 93 when first taken, and went down substantially over time. Twenty minutes later his pulse had slowed to 60. From the fall to the arrival of EMS it took around 30 minutes. During the process he was taking, alert and had no signs of visual or auditory loss. Coach 3: On the evening of February 23rd one of our athletes slipped on the side of the pool at Simmons College. He was walking toward the bulkhead, just inside the stairs beyond the flags when he slipped stepping on the ledge to avoid the commonwealth coaches and swimmers during our practice switch. The swimmer fell and hit his hip and head on the gutter. He immediately pulled himself onto the pool deck and went into a crouch position holding his ear. The swimmer was in shock so I proceeded calm him, while the other coaches and lifeguards got us help. During this time we also removed the swimmers from the pool deck and had them go into a room so that they would not have to watch the swimmer get taken out. Taking care of the swimmer we noticed that his ear was bleeding. We got him to lay on his back and got ice for his ear while we waited for Simmons Security and EMT's to arrive, tending to his wounds (where we noticed he had a cut in his ear). During this time and we informed his mother, who made it to the pool deck before the EMT's arrived. She was informed of what happened and that she would be the decision maker with the EMT's. We kept the swimmer lying on his back until the stretcher arrived and he could be evaluated by medical personal. Swimmer was evaluated and brought to Boston Children's Hospital to be assessed.

The incident happened around 10:50 AM. The Sea Dragon Swim Club president checked with the swimmer's mother on the Monday following the incident. His mother's response was: "He is doing fine, thank you for checking. I think he was startled and a bit embarrassed. He will be back at it tomorrow. Have a good night!" There is no direct knowledge of any actual medical attention being provided, but it sounds like there was not much to follow up for the swimmer.	After the swimmer hit his head on the bulk head he did not finish the race. He exited the pool and was assisted by the a school lifeguard. The lifeguard provided ice to the swimmer.
Female	NI - Niagara Swimming	Meet - Walking	Deck	The swimmer was participating in Session 6 of the Victor Swim Club New Year's Invitational Meet on January 8, 2017. The swimmer was preparing for her event of the session. The swimmer was entered in event 60 heat 2 lane 2, the first event of the session. The session started at 4:00 PM. Around 3:45 PM the swimmer was walking on the deck near the start end of the pool. The noticed that her foot was bleeding. By observing the blood on the pool deck it appears the swimmers foot was cut near a diving board platform between lanes 3 and 4. On the lane 4 side of the diving board platform there is a recessed metal access plate in the pool deck that the swimmer may have slid her foot over. However, examining the deck in the apparent vicinity of the incident it was not obvious of cause. The swimmer was taken to the lifeguard who examined her foot and applied bandages to stop the bleeding.	The swimmer was seen by her primary care physician, Dr. Roderick Davis with the Portland Pediatric Group, on Thursday, 1/12/17. Following the meet, the family spoke with a triage nurse and sent a picture via text message. It was determined that the cut was too wide for stitches; and, being on the side of the swimmer's foot, staples wouldn't be a good option either. The swimmer was told to keep it clean and no running for at least a week and no work with flippers for at least two weeks. When the swimmer went to the doctor on Thursday, he said that the tissue damage was worse than originally thought, but the family was doing the right things and to keep up with the treatment. It was irritated, so her doctor recommended no exercise, including swimming, until Monday, 1/16/17, to give the wound a chance to heal. Sunday, January 8, 2017 night, a triage nurse determined that the swimmer's cut was deep enough for stitches; however, it was too wide to stitch and butterfly sutures wouldn't fit either. So, it will be left open. The family finally got the bleeding to stop around 8:00 Sunday night. The nurse said no running for a week. The swimmer can swim starting tomorrow as long as the cut has clotted, which it has done. The swimmer can't use fins for at least 2 weeks as it will rip open the wound. After 2 weeks, it will be reassessed.
