One spectator per swimmer may enter the observation deck, walk to a designated observation spot, observe their swimmer's race, then exit along the designated path immediately after completion of the race. A marshal will be placed on the observation deck to ensure compliance with the observation deck rules.
- The meet may be viewed remotely via live stream. Parents will receive live stream information by email the day before the meet.

Race Flow

- An 8-lane course will be used for the meet. Events will be swum in lanes 2 through 9.
- Timer protocol
 - One timer will be assigned to each lane. Timers must wear a face covering. For timers in lanes 3-8, every effort will be made to have timers from the same household in adjoining lanes. Timers from different households will remain 10 feet apart when possible.
 - Timers will stand at the wall behind the blocks (approximately 12 feet from the blocks) for the start of each race. The timers will move to the edge of the pool to capture the finish of the race, then move back to the wall to record the time.
- Swimmer protocol
 - Swimmers will report to the clerk of course (located in the hallway outside of the pool area) no sooner than 3 heats before their race. Swimmers must remain masked at the clerk.
 - Swimmers will stand on the marked spaced (10 feet apart) for their assigned heat and lane. Swimmers must remain 10 feet away from individuals that do not live in their household.
 - One heat prior to swimming, swimmers will take off their mask and leave it in a designated space located between the racing and activity pools. Swimmers will also leave any clothing, towels, or other items brought with them to the clerk in this designated space. The space will be sanitized by a designated marshal between users.
 - Swimmers must listen to all directions provided by the clerk of course volunteers and marshals. Failure to do so will result in dismissal from the event.

- Swimmer ingress/ egress
 - A 25 or 75 yard warm down will be swum by all swimmers at the conclusion of their race. All swimmers will exit the pool at the shallow end after their warm down swim. Swimmers that wish to use the warm down pool may do so by following the warm down procedures outlined in the next section. Swimmers that do not wish to use the warm down pool after their race will retrieve and put on their mask, then walk to their assigned base and must remain at their base until their next swim.
 - At the conclusion of the previous race, during the previous swimmers' warm down swim and after the timers have captured the swimmers' times and have moved back to the wall, swimmers for the next heat will be permitted to proceed to the block behind their assigned race lane. A designated marshal will control the flow of swimmers to the area behind the blocks.
 - To avoid gathering on the pool deck, no feedback will be given to the swimmers from their coaches after each race. Swimmers should report to their base, not their coach, after each race.

- Warm down pool
 - Lanes 1 and 3 of the family pool will be open for warm down after each race.
 - A maximum of 4 swimmers may swim in each lane at a time. Swimmers must remain 10 feet apart when practical to do so.
 - A marshal will be placed at the end of the family pool opposite the clerk of course to monitor the warm down pool.
 - After the conclusion of their race, swimmers that wish to warm down may immediately enter the warm down pool. They may remain in the warm down pool until the next heat of swimmers in the racing pool begins their cool down swim. The warm down pool marshal will monitor the flow.
 - Immediately after exiting the warm down pool, swimmers will retrieve their mask and other possessions, put their mask on, and walk to their base where they will remain until their next swim.

- Distance event protocol

For races that use a counter, the following modifications will be made:

 - The 24-swimmer allotment on deck will include the following: 8 swimmers competing in the racing pool, 8 counters, and 8 swimmers in the warm down pool
 - All heats waiting to swim will remain in the hallway, spaced 10 feet apart, until instructed to enter the pool deck area. A counter clerk of course will also be lined up in the hallway.
 - At the conclusion of the previous heat, as the swimmers begin their 75 warm down, the next heat of swimmers will be permitted to enter the deck area. Swimmers will proceed directly to the designated mask station, remove their mask and any clothing/ towels and place them in the designated space, then proceed directly behind the block of their designated racing lane. Marshals will monitor this flow.
 - Once the counters from the previous heat have exited the pool deck, the next heat of counters will be permitted to enter the pool deck and will proceed directly to the turn end of the lane of the swimmer for whom they are counting. All counters will remain masked.

- Distance swimmers will be permitted to remain in the warm down pool until the racing heat has 200 yards left in their swim. At this time, the warm down pool marshal will instruct the swimmers to exit the pool, retrieve and put on their mask, gather any belongings left at the masking station, and exit the pool deck.
