Message from Coach

As I sat in front of my computer playing solitaire I thought about how I should articulate what my job is.

What do I do?

When asked a similar question one coach said, "I get kids to swim fast." For me, that only partially answers the question of "what do I do?"

Sure, I get some kids to swim fast. And almost all the people who've swum in my group over the years ended up faster than when I first coached them.

I like to think I teach fundamental skills that help each person become more efficient so he can glide through the water, almost like a fish. Some pick up these skills more easily than others. I also ask for effort, often times more than one thinks he can give that night.

And with the nature of our sport and the limitations of space our club teaches kids how to get along; without this skill the time spent during practice would be difficult to handle.

But at the very center of what I do is about keeping swimmers coming back. Day after day. Week after week. Over the long haul.

Teach skills. Test those skills. In practice and in meets. Show each person what can be achieved. Let each person know that his effort, attitude and contribution to the team are valued.

I've thought a lot these past few months about what's important about the people whom you trust to make your experience with our swim team a valuable part of your lives. When it comes to the coaches, you must trust us. Trust our knowledge, our judgement, our values, our personality. If you don't you won't stay. Or, you'll talk behind our back, creating a divisive environment that won't help us grow and thrive. Either way, it's bad.

Thank goodness we don't have this kind of situation on our club.

I'm committed to preserving the trust that swimmers and their parents have in our coaching staff. It takes open lines of communication on the part of the coaches and the coached (both swimmers and parents).

Let us know how you think we're doing.

Message from Susie Minahen

The year 2003 will soon be over. I hope it was a very good year for everyone! While reflecting on the past swim year, many of our swimmers have achieved several accomplishments. As a parent, some of the most important accomplishments are the many "first" in my children's lives. For swimming this would be activities such as the first swim in a certain event, the first B/A/AA, etc. swim time, the first time they achieved a certain high place in any event. There are also the accomplishments of the many improved swimming times that are achieved through the dedicated time and commitment they give to their workouts.

Our club can be very proud of our many TEAM accomplishments. The following are just a few examples of our achievements in 2003:

- ?? Hired Coach Lori
- ?? Continued to grow with new swimmers
- ?? Secured Cunningham Pool for the winter
- ?? Improved the city's awareness of our team through our many presentations at the City Council meetings

?? Held three very successful swim meets

?? Held a very successful Swim A Thon

?? Enjoyed many "outings" together

?? Took 3rd place in REAL

Congratulations to everyone for your contributions to making our swim team a friendly, fun, successful club!

Speaking of FUN... last Saturday night we held our Annual Christmas Party. Once again, everyone enjoyed the great food, crafts and auction.

Thank you to all who could make it, and especially to Mark and Rebecca Kearney, Kristin Jovino and Tuffy (our auctioneer) for your extra efforts!

Finally, my family and I would like to wish all of you a wonderful holiday season. We look forward to many more accomplishments in 2004.

Susie

Seasons Greetings to all!

FOUR FORDHAM SWIMMERS SWEEP WEEKLY ATLANTIC 10 AWARDS

Erika Newell and John Kennedy Named Performers of the Week; Ayse Caglar and Niko Felix Named Rookies of the Week

Bronx, NY - (December 1, 2003) - Four Fordham University swimmers swept the Atlantic 10 weekly awards for the week ending November 30th. Junior Erika Newell (Branford, CT) and sophomore John Kennedy (Tappan, NY) were each named Atlantic 10 Performer of the Week, while freshmen Ayse Caglar (Istanbul, Turkey) and Niko Felix (Vallejo, CA) were named Atlantic 10 Rookies of the Week. This is the third time Newell has earned an Atlantic 10 weekly award, while it is the first for Kennedy, Caglar, and Felix. Newell also received ECAC Women's Swimmer of the Week for her performance this past week.

Newell placed first in the 50-yard backstroke (27.53), 100-yard individual medley (1:00.53) and 100-yard backstroke (58.82) in Fordham's meet versus Columbia on November 24. Her time in the 100-yard backstroke was the fourth fastest in the Atlantic 10 this season. Kennedy placed first in the 50-yard backstroke (25.40) and 100-yard individual medley on versus Columbia.

Caglar this week set a school record in the 1000-yard freestyle, placing first in a time of 10:21.59, the second-fastest time in the Conference this season. She eclipsed the previous mark of 10:27.97, set by Brooke Barton in 1998. Caglar also took the top spot in the 500-yard freestyle with a time of 5:05.48. Felix won the 100-yard breaststroke in a time of 1:00.06 in Fordham's 179-117 defeat versus Columbia, and also recorded a time of 28.21 in the 50-yard breaststroke.

The Fordham Swimming & Diving teams are off to a very good start this season, as the women are currently 6-2 on the year, while the men are at 4-4. They will both be in action this weekend, December 6-7, as they participate at the Bucknell Invitational in Lewisburg, PA.

Founded in 1841, Fordham is New York City's Jesuit University. With 22 men's and women's varsity sports teams, the Fordham Rams are members of the NCAA Division I and compete in the Atlantic 10 Conference in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, indoor and outdoor track, women's rowing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis and volleyball and in the Patriot League (NCAA I-AA) for football.

Niko Felix - Fordham Freshman, Vallejo, CA/St. Patrick's & St. Vincent's HS Felix won the 100-yard breaststroke in a time of 1:00.06 in Fordham's 179-117 defeat versus Columbia on Nov.24... also recorded a time of 28.21 in the 50-yard breaststroke.
