

SwimRVA is excited to offer the SPIIDEO streaming service for the Toyota US Open in Richmond, VA! To access this tool, viewers must create an account using the instructions below and then fill out a Google form to report their account to administrators in order to gain access.

Please use the below instructions to create an account for streaming with Spiideo (yes, there are two l's). Spiideo is available via an app for iOS devices (they are working on Android App) and through any browser for android or PC.

There are two ways of creating a Spiideo account (only takes 30 seconds).

1. Download "Spiideo" on your iPhone or iPad and create an account using the app.

2. Go to spiideo.net and click the blue button that says "Sign In with your Email"
 - a. Then click "Create a new Spiideo account" and follow the prompts

After you create an account on Spiideo, we will need to give the account access to our stream, in order to do this, it is vital that you complete step 4 above. It is important that you do not make any typos when reporting your email address. Without this information, the stream will not work.

Once SwimRVA completes the steps to give you access, you will go to the RECORDINGS section to see the stream. If you see a video titled SwimRVA Manifesto in this section, that means you will see the meet as it goes live!

There are steps for SwimRVA to complete after you create your account. SwimRVA will be monitoring access requests throughout the contest, so if you do not see the stream right away, do not worry. If you have a specific need to expedite this, please email brad.burton@swimrichmond.org.
